Kevin,

That is my understanding. However, the debris generated from the demo is still subject to NESHAPS rules. I've invited Mark Hansen from EPA Enforcement Division who is familiar with NESHAPS to come down for tomorrow's meeting and try to address questions and help provide some clarification.

Mark,

I read this from the Federal Register clarification and it seems that demo of the homes by the homeowner or even by the city is not subject to the NESHAPS.

So really, there is no regulatory basis to conduct asbestos inspections right?

All,

Passing along some documents concerning NESHAPS that may be useful in understanding what is required during demolition and debris disposal. Please review for discussion during the next task force meeting tomorrow morning.
